

Travel Consultants

- Are you passionate, spirited, determined?
- Do you want a career which brings out your best, and offers great incentives and big rewards?
- Ready to make your mark on the travel industry?

We're looking for fresh, like-minded people who are ready to forge a new sales career to join our retail team in Singapore. As a full time Flight Centre Travel Consultant, you'll find this is much more than "just a retail job". You will use Flight Centre's vast range of resources to meet each client's travel needs, and book every type of holiday you can imagine – from single flights to around the world adventures.

Flight Centre employees around the globe are highly motivated, hard working and dedicated to their job - but it's not the only thing which sets us apart from the competition. We thrive on having fun, learning new things and meeting great people - but most importantly it's about being part of a company we believe in and take great pride in being part of its ongoing success.

What you'll bring:

- Sales skills - you've got the edge when it comes to sales and understand how to work with a commission structure
- Travel experience - of course you'll have a love of travel and visited a variety of overseas destinations
- Academic achievements - you're a high achiever with A level education or higher
- Leadership potential - you'll love to lead and thrive on the thought of owning a slice of the business

Travel qualifications aren't necessary - you'll have determination, destination knowledge and a knack for sales, and we'll provide you with the training and support you need to make sure your new career is a success!

Most importantly, Flight Centre prides itself on providing great incentives and generous rewards. Not only will you find yourself with a rewarding career and a chance to get a slice of the travel industry action, you'll also enjoy:

- Full industry training - comprehensive training in our systems and processes is provided to get you started, then there are plenty of training opportunities throughout your career
- Travel perks - you'll have access to plenty of industry discounts to ensure you continue to broaden your horizons
- Career opportunities - as a high growth company, you will have the opportunity to advance your career in any direction you choose whether that is in Singapore or in one of our 2,000 plus offices around the world.

Interested? Email us now at recruitment@flightcentre.com.sg with your resume.